

I oppose loosening the rules designed to promote and protect diversity of media ownership. These rules were adopted to ensure that the public would receive a diverse range of viewpoints from the media, and not simply the opinions of a handful of media conglomerates.

How dare Comcast reject an antiwar ad for "lack of substantiation of claims"! Have any of the Bush Administration's claims about Iraq ever been substantiated? How about refusing to air what the President says until it's substantiated?